The one thing which makes tensors webops unique as compared to others is that the it's works for the society, such as they also make websites for various ngo's and help them to expand their reach. Like tensors webops team I think there is no team which have social cause as their backbone. So this the thing which put tensors webops team very unique form the others.

I want to join the tensors webops team because in this team I will work on the live projects which will be directly considered as product so there will be no intermiddiate person. The main reason why I wanted to join this team is because while working with this team I will be part of the social work ,which this team is doing amazingly well.
